

Tasmania

This fact sheet provides an overview of the major causes of change in relativities and the distribution of the GST pool since the 2020 Review.

Relativities and estimated GST distribution

Tasmania's recommended GST revenue sharing relativity will increase to 1.96067 in 2021-22, resulting in it receiving an estimated GST pool distribution of $2,783 million.

This year is the first year of the legislated transition arrangements, moving from distributing the GST pool solely on the basis of the Commission's assessment of relative fiscal capacities, to new arrangements where States will be equalised to the fiscally stronger of New South Wales and Victoria.

Note: The estimated GST pool distribution for 2021-22 was calculated by applying 2021 Update relativities to estimated State populations (as of December 2021) and the estimated GST pool for 2021-22 (which includes the $600 million top-up).

(a) Relative fiscal capacities refer to the previous arrangements.

(b) Standard State capacities refer to the new arrangements (equalising to the stronger of New South Wales or Victoria). Victoria was fiscally stronger than New South Wales in two assessment years. New South Wales was fiscally stronger than Victoria in one assessment year. For this reason, Western Australia's standard State capacity is not equal to that of either New South Wales or Victoria.

(c) The blended capacities are 5/6th relative fiscal capacities and 1/6th standard State fiscal capacities.

(d) No internal floor applies to 2021-22.

Change in fiscal capacity

Under the new GST relativities, which include the transition arrangements, Tasmania's GST pool share would rise from 4.0% to 4.1%. Combined with pool growth, its GST entitlement in 2021-22 would rise by an estimated $253 million, or 10.0%.

Tasmania's GST pool requirement increased. This was due to higher wage costs and Western Australia's increase in mining royalties, which reduced Tasmania's relative capacity to generate mining revenue. These changes were partly offset by above average growth in the value of property sales.

Change in estimated GST distribution from 2021 to 2021-22, Tasmania

Note: Table may not add due to rounding.

(a) This represents the difference between applying the GST relativities and relative fiscal capacities to the GST pool. It is not the basis of the 'no worse off' calculation, which is a State's relative fiscal capacity applied to the GST pool without the top-up.

Main changes for Tasmania, 2021 Update

Data revisions

$22m Urban centre characteristics. Downward revisions to State urban transport net expenses increased the GST shares of States with below average needs, including Tasmania.

-$18m Wage costs. Revisions to the ABS Characteristics of Employment Survey have decreased the estimates of wage costs in Tasmania, reducing the assessed cost of paying its public sector staff.

Changes in State circumstances between 2016-17 and 2019-20

$57m Wage costs. Tasmania's wages have been rising each year since 2016-17 at a faster rate than the national average. This has increased the assessed cost of paying its public sector staff.

-$48m Property sales. Above average growth in property sales increased Tasmania's relative revenue raising capacity and reduced its GST share.

$28m Mining. Faster growth in the value of mining production in Western Australia reduced Tasmania's relative revenue raising capacity, increasing its GST share.

$25m Population dispersion. Increased spending in regional areas, above the national rate, as well as above average population growth in regional areas of Tasmania, has increased Tasmania's GST share.

$20m Growth in expenses. Between 2016-17 and 2019-20, total expenses in States grew significantly faster than growth in the GST pool. This increased the GST shares of States with above average expense requirements.
